

Research Support and funding of studies on flowing and standing waters

„Reinhard Liepolt Award“ for research activities in the Danube catchment

Publication of scientific papers, collection of relevant scientific literature

Discussion Forum Ecology of the River Danube, its fluvial corridor and its tributaries.

Dissemination Organisation of symposia and workshops, public relations

Collaboration of AC-IAD with the Societas Intern. Limnologie (SIL) and the International Association for Danube Research (IAD)

Austrian Committee

Danube Research

International Association for Danube Research

History

The Austrian Committee for Danube Research, the National Body of the International Association for Danube Research (AC-IAD), was officially constituted in 1976. Reinhart Liepolt became the first president. By integration of regional and national administrative bodies as well as water-related industrial branches the integration of science and practice was finally reached and was an innovative approach at this time.

Membership

in the AC-IAD can be obtained by written application (postal, eMail) to the Board of AC-IAD

Contact

Intern. Association for Danube Research (AC-IAD). President: Univ.Prof.Dr. Thomas HEIN
c/o Univ. of Natural Resources and Life Sciences, Vienna (BOKU) Inst. of Hydrobiology and Aquatic Ecosystem Management Gregor-Mendel-Str. 33, 1180 Wien, Österreich eMail: office@oen-iad.org www.oen-iad.org
www.danube-iad.eu